Kakabeka Crystal Water Recall

March 9, 2017 - The Health Unit advises against drinking Kakabeka Crystal water products due to evidence of bacterial overgrowth. Crystal is cooperating with the investigation and testing is underway.

Testing of some Kakabeka Crystal water products for bacterial overgrowth where no bacteria were found.

The type of bacteria has not yet been identified. Certain bacteria can cause gastrointestinal illness, including abdominal pain, occasionally, increased gastrointestinal illness.

Due to the potential risk to people consuming these water products, the Health Unit advises against drinking Kakabeka Crystal water products that are not recalled. Products range from individual-sized bottles to jugs used in water coolers.

Public Health Inspectors have been working closely with the facility and testing at various points in the bottles provided as it becomes available.
